

HEAP EARTH UPON IT

CHLOE MICHELLE HOWARTH

MARKETING & SALES POINTS

A creeping story of sibling rivalry and dangerous obsession, from the NERO Prize-shortlisted author of Sunburn, which has now sold over 100k copies

Like Howarth's acclaimed debut, Heap Earth Upon It explores rural Irish life at a specific moment in time, combining the emotional intensity and slow-burn sapphic obsession of Julia Armfield's Our Wives Under the Sea and Yael van der Wouden's The Safekeep with the gothic undertones of Daphne du Maurier and Shirley Jackson's fiction

Major campaign launched the hardback in October 2025, including interviews across national press and radio, podcasts and queer and Irish press and extensive support across social channels from high-profile lifestyle influencers, BookTokers and Bookstagrammers

Chosen as a 2025 Book of the Year by Blackwell's and Foyles' booksellers

Howarth is undertaking an extensive author tour across the UK and Ireland with events in cities including Dublin, Belfast, Cork, London, Manchester, Edinburgh, Glasgow, and Brighton and further bookshop and festival events confirmed in to 2026

Melville House will release North American edition in early 2026 to tie-in with VERVE's UK PB publication

THE BOOK

January 1965. The orphaned O'Leary siblings - Tom, Jack, Anna and Peggy - arrive in the village of Ballycrea, tight-lipped about their troubled past and desperate for a fresh start.

After being met with suspicion from most of the locals, the family are thrilled when they're taken under the wing of their well-respected neighbours, Bill and Betty Nevan, who offer them work, companionship and an opportunity to fit in.

But for one of the O'Learys, this new friendship sparks an intense attachment that makes the dynamic dangerous for all. It's difficult to bury secrets, but almost impossible to bury feelings...
